Past Performance

Communications Project, NAS JAX Hospital — This construction project involved the removal and replacement of the nurse call system, Public Address system, all synchronized clocks, and select phone circuits throughout the Naval Hospital at Naval Air Station Jacksonville. All work needed to be completed while the hospital was staffed and remained fully operational. Coordination was required with multiple departments and logistics were key for the successful acceptance of the new system prior to dismantling and removing the existing systems. Also, as part of this project several spaces were remodeled including new MPE services and finishes. Detailed record drawings, product data and video training programs were required as part of the project.
